

Martini Madness

Think a martini is “just not for you”? Well this is sure to change your mind! Thoughts of martinis usually conjure up images of clear liquid being sipped by dapper gentlemen, but martinis have evolved and are waiting for you to discover their endless potential!

In this one-hour, hands-on demonstration, you’ll learn bartending basics and make three completely different martinis, each sure to knock the socks off your party guests! You’ll learn about the history of martinis and how they have changed over the years before you become your own mixologist. The instructor will walk you through everything from shakers to strainers, glasses to garnishes, while awakening your taste buds to modern-day martinis. You’ll pour your own drinks and even get to take the recipes home with you to wow your own guests!

Price: $25.00 per person.
